The Tower . . .

... one of the most distinctive sights on campus. Perched atop Nazareth Hall, the tower stands out as a reminder of the heritage of the Northwestern College campus, whose ground and buildings have always been dedicated to training people for the Lord's service. It was first a Roman Catholic seminary, and then, in 1970, Northwestern took possession of the site.

The tower's red tiled roof and Gothic cross add a touch of Southern European grandeur to the naturally beautiful campus. The Romanesque architecture calls to mind pictures of the great buildings erected in the time of the Renaissance and Reformation.

Not merely beautiful, the tower is symbolic of strength and protection. In times and civilizations long past, towers were built so that people could see enemies approaching and could better defend themselves. Towers were also used as a show of the might or glory of the civilization. To have a tower was to have security.

As a Christian community, Northwestern looks to the Lord Jesus Christ as our tower. He alone is our strength, our protection, our sure defense from the Enemy, and our only reason for glory. In Him alone, we are secure.

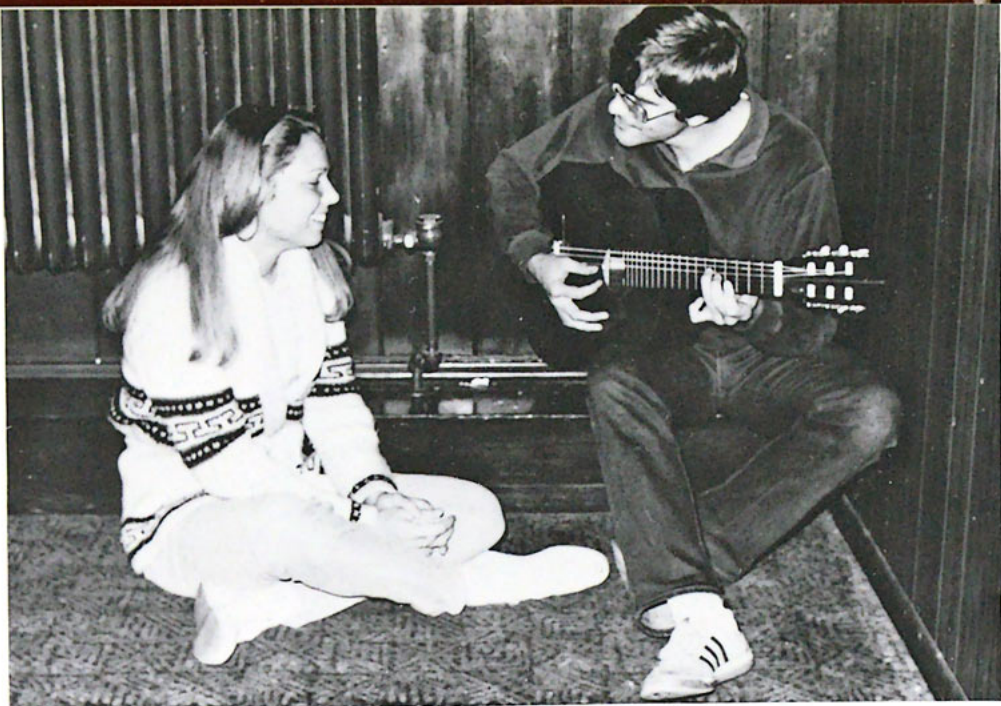

"The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer, ... and my high tower." Psalm 18:2

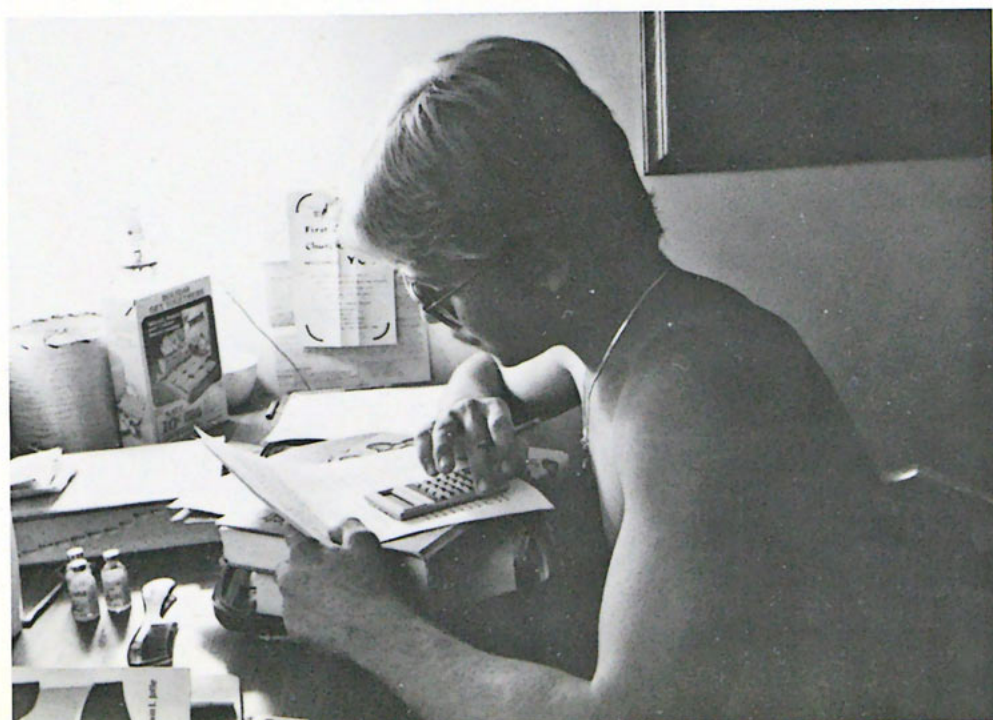

"... for thou hast been a shelter for me, and a strong tower from the enemy." Psalm 61:3

"The name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Proverbs 18:10

A Tower for Us

As Christ is a tower for each of us individually, we are to be towers to each other, giving strength and encouragement. The theme chosen for this year by the NWSA Senate, "Raised up to serve," is a challenge that must be met if we are to follow the leading of our Lord and Savior. Being a "tower" to someone else may involve sharing our time, our talents and abilities, maybe even our money, but it is always a sharing of Christ's love, which is present in an ever-abundant supply.

"I have set thee for a tower and a fortress among my people . . ." Jeremiah 6:27

A Tower for Others

Northwestern's tower is its most visible piece of architecture to those outside the campus. From across the lake, the tower with the cross on top catches peoples' attention and often arouses curiosity as to what the college is like and what makes it special.

In the same way, we must strive to make Christ, our tower, the most visible part of our lives to those who don't know Him. There should be a quality of life in us that should arouse curiosity as to what we have that is special. As tall and strong towers, Northwestern students can "show forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvelous light." (1 Peter 2:9)

"Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven." Matthew 5:16

Therefore . . .

. . . prepare your minds for action; be self-controlled; set your hope fully on the grace to be given you when Jesus Christ is revealed. As obedient children, do not conform to the evil desires you had when you lived in ignorance. But just as he who called you is holy, so be holy in all you do; for it is written: "Be holy, because I am holy." 1 Peter 1:13-16, NIV

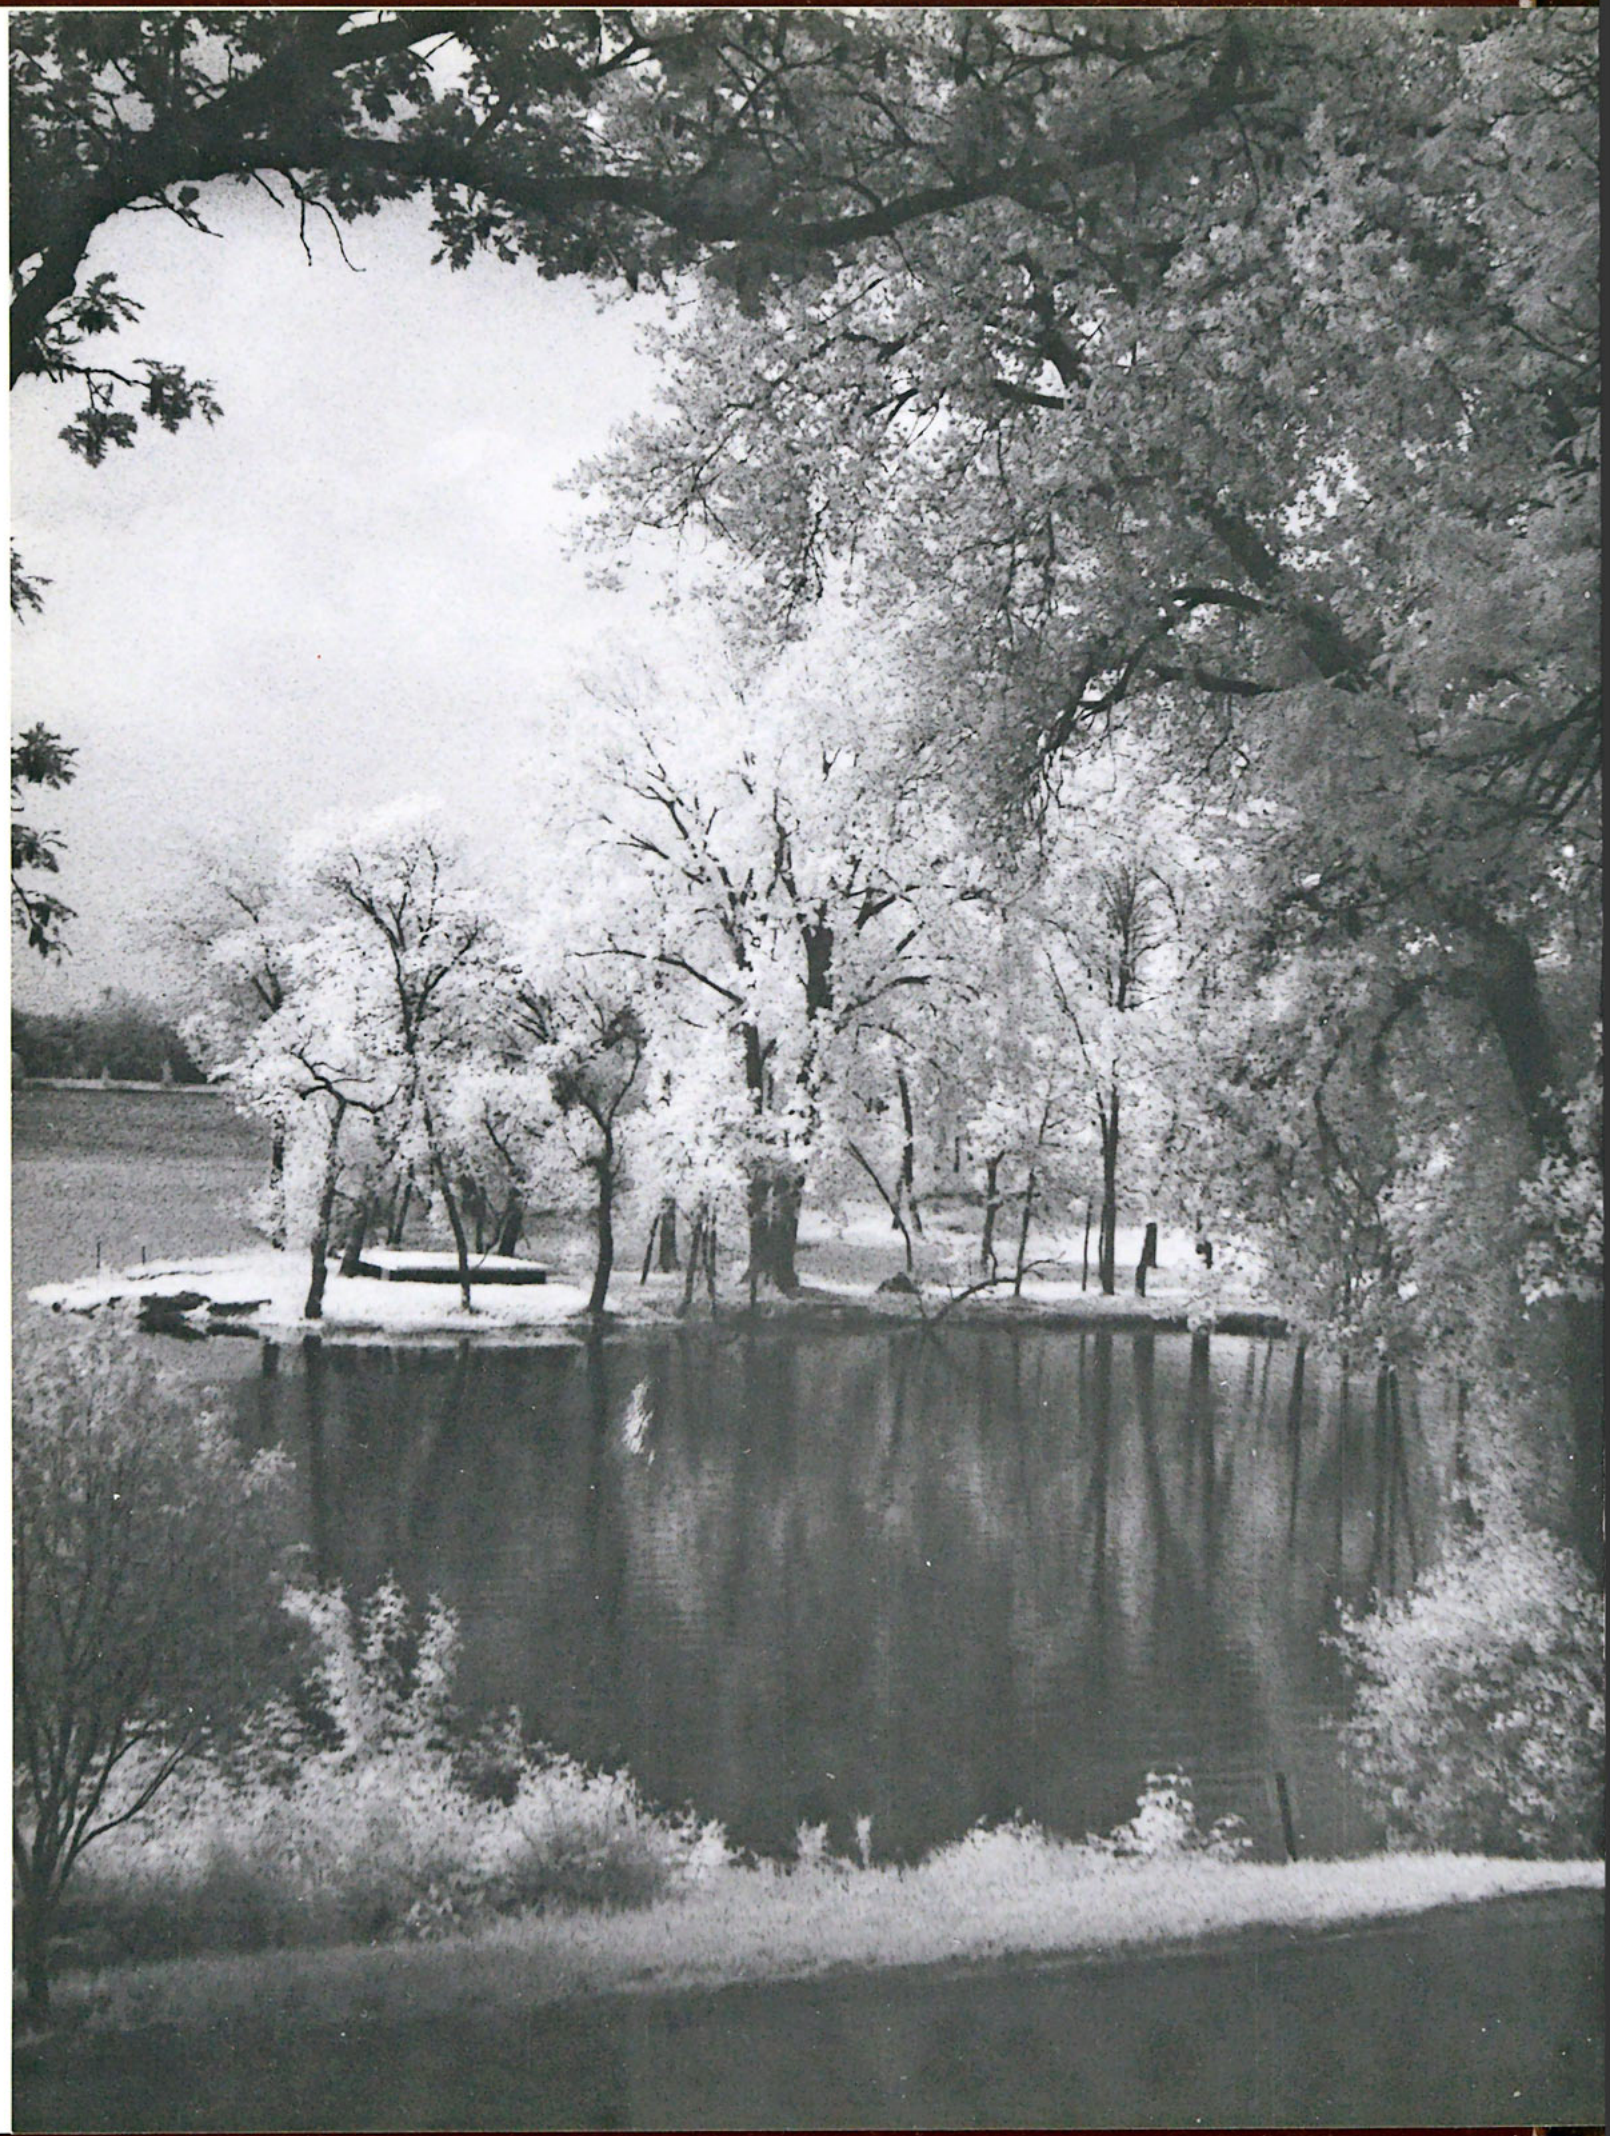

"To him who is able to keep you from falling and to present you before his glorious presence without fault and with great joy — to the only God our Savior be glory, majesty, power, and authority, through Jesus Christ our Lord, before all ages, now and forevermore! Amen." Jude 24-25

THE TOWER . . . Activities

The first week of school is always an exciting and confusing time. When it is also your first time away from home for an extended period of time and you are suddenly living with a total stranger (or maybe two of them!), the excitement and confusion only multiply.

Northwestern's student personnel department made it their goal to make this transition time as painless as possible for all involved. Roommates were introduced, and R.A.'s had activities for their floors. A skit night displayed the talents (?) of many of the student leaders. And who could forget the joys of standing in the registration line for two hours, or Mr. Gunberg's orientation speeches?

Through all of the varied activities of the week, a basis of fun and fellowship was set that continued throughout the year. And where did it take us? Page through this book and see . . .

Dr. Ralph Neighbour, an alumnus of Northwestern's class of '51, shared his heart in chapel services during Spiritual Emphasis Week at the end of September. His messages were centered on the practical theme of servanthood, which should be expressed through the evangelism of our fast-growing world, as well as through submission (voluntary slavery) to our Lord.

Much of his impact came from his warmth and openness with the students. "Uncle Ralph" shared the story of his own personal struggles during his time at Northwestern as a student, and he was available to the students for private counselling.

The week concluded in an exciting and inspiring way as many students went forward to pray with one another and to share commitments that were made to the Lord.

Homecoming is always a thrilling time at Northwestern, and this year was no exception. The theme for all the events was "Family Reunion," and that it was. Many former Northwestern students returned to join in the homecoming activities.

Six former "Miss Northwestern" representatives returned to take part in the presentation of this year's Miss Northwestern, Sheila Kremer, who was announced at a special ceremony held in Maranatha Hall. A punch reception was held after the program, followed by a pepfest in Riley gym.

Students had a chance to show their school spirit on Friday by wearing purple and gold. That evening, however, they changed into more formal attire to attend the Homecoming banquet in the Blue Room. After the banquet, many students attended a concert by Chris Christian in Maranatha, followed by a poolside reception in the Eagle's Nest.

On Saturday, the football Eagles suffered a sad defeat to Pillsbury Baptist, but the soccer team defeated Viterbo 4-1 later in the afternoon, cheered on by a group of "Soccer Rowdies" from years past.

The weekend was capped by a concert in Maranatha Hall featuring alumnus Gordon Magee. The conclusion at the end of all events was that it had been a good family reunion, with the promise of an even better one at the Lord's return.

Cheaper by the Dozen

"Cheaper by the Dozen," a comedy showing the lives of a large and very unique family, was performed November 4-6 in Maranatha Hall. This very funny, and at times very moving play, tells of a family with 12 kids and a father who is an efficiency expert. He applies his business methods to the raising of his family with some very hilarious and embarrassing results!

This play, directed by Miss Carol Thomas, featured 17 cast members, and was helped to success by a large crew of behind-the-scenes people.

Directed by student Tim Overweg, "Androcles and the Lion" was performed in the Gold Room on February 3-5. Its cast of eight humorously portrayed the ancient story of how an act of kindness helped to save the life of Androcles the slave.

Youth Conference

With over 200 high school students in attendance, the annual youth conference was termed a success by NWSA Vice President Jon Hess.

The featured speaker for the conference was Ken Carlson, who challenged the entire student body in Friday morning's chapel service. He also spoke in several sessions with the youth conference guests, as well as at a special Sing and Share on Friday night.

The guests stayed with students in the residences for two nights and had the opportunity to visit classes, thus getting a first-hand look at what life at Northwestern is all about.

Sno-Daze!

Winter need not be a time of drudgery and isolation, and Sno-Daze weekend again proved that students can beat the winter blah's by participating in some strange and unique activities. This year, Sno-Daze was a TWIRP weekend, meaning The Woman Is Required to Pay. Possible choices of activities included a student talent show, basketball game, ice cream social, snowball eating and snow sculpting contests, as well as two dress-up days.

THE TOWER ... Organizations

Servanthood Demonstrated

"Raised Up to Serve" was this year's theme of the Northwestern Student Association, and they demonstrated that theme by their work throughout the year. This organization represented all students and was involved most directly with student life and activities on campus.

The six members on the NWSA senate, elected the previous spring, were Dave Jensen, President; Jon Hess, Vice-President; Debbie Nelson, Secretary; Todd Wallace, Community Life Director; Jim Boline, Communications Director; and Kim Higgins, Social Activities Director. There were also ten student representatives, elected by the student body in the fall, that met with the senate and other students.

Goers-Senders

Challenging students either to be a missionary or to help support a missionary was the purpose of the Student Missionary Fellowship.

One way in which SMF helped missionaries already out on a mission field and students going out on summer missions was to take offerings every Friday during chapel. This money was used to support mission work.

The objectives of SMF were to be informative, to help Christians grow, to establish prayer groups and prayer letters, and to be cross-cultured stewards for God.

Male Chorus

The Northwestern Male Chorus consisted of 35 voices in four part harmony, directed by Dr. Kyle Wilson. The chorus had a busy schedule singing in the Harvest Sound concert in the fall with the band, the Christmas cantata with the combined choirs and orchestra, and also singing for chapel.

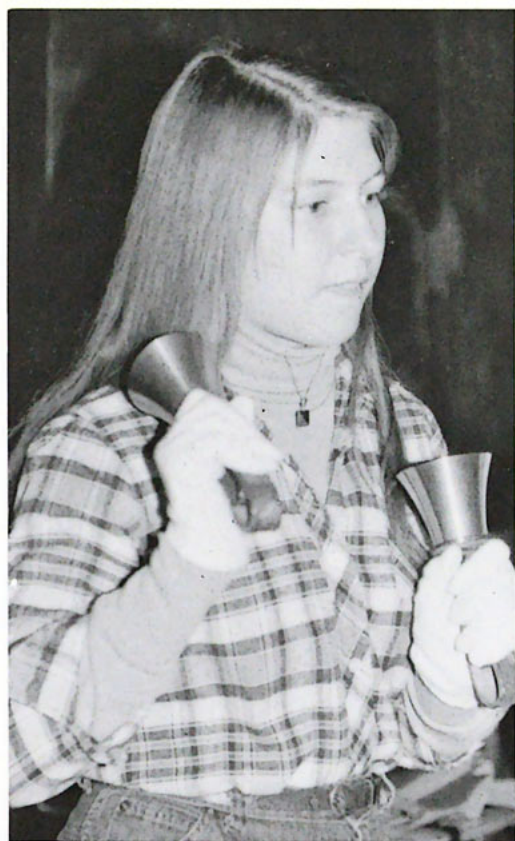

The male chorus sang for churches during the year and went on an extended tour after graduation, going south toward St. Louis and east toward the coast.

Dr. Wilson commented that last year's choir experienced a really fine "revival team." This year's choir has also had several good preachers in the group. Their ministry has been expanded by the formation of a quartet group from the chorus. Commented Dr. Wilson, "The whole male chorus goes out with a musical crusading spirit."

To God be the Glory

Growing spiritually, socially and musically was the main goal of the Women's Vocal and Handbell Ensemble. To the 13 member ensemble, being in the group has meant dedication, responsibility, and concern for others. Through this understanding, they became a closely knit group and were able to feel what the others were doing while they were together.

This year the ensemble had an extended tour during spring break. During the nine day tour they enjoyed sight-seeing and fellowship with one another in the Michigan area. Another short tour included a weekend trip to North Dakota. Weekends throughout the year included Retreat and Rehearse get-togethers.

Concert Band

The excitement and thrill at the football and basketball games, the throb of musical instruments at a concert, and the steady beat and sound of contemporary songs were all brought out by this year's band.

The Northwestern College Concert Band, a 40 instrument ensemble under the direction of Dr. David Osterlund, practiced together to perform concerts and tours throughout the year.

In the fall, the Homecoming pep band was formed, consisting of about 60 students and alumni. During November, the band played in the Harvest Sound concert. The theme for the spring tour, "O Worship the King," was presented in Milwaukee and Madison, Wisconsin; Moline, Illinois; and at Moody and Wheaton Colleges in the Chicago area.

College Choir

The Apostle Paul said, "May the God of all steadfastness and encouragement grant you to live in such harmony with one another, in accord with Christ Jesus, that together with one voice you may glorify the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ" (Romans 15:5-6). The 55 members of the Northwestern College Choir are one in their commitment to Christ, and one in their desire to develop their skills to present the Gospel in the most effective manner possible.

In the fall, the choir presented six performances of the cantata, "Dawn of Promise." They joined together with the other choirs and orchestra to perform "Maranatha: Behold He Cometh," the Christmas concert in Maranatha Hall. The two spring tours allowed the choir to minister in Duluth, Minneapolis, Baraboo, Wisconsin, South Dakota, Nebraska, and Iowa. The final spring concert, with guest soloist David Ford, took place on May 14, followed closely by the annual choir banquet and singing at graduation. Again, the unity of spirit and resolve knit the choir into a unit dedicated to singing God's praises.

Eagle & Scroll

Interviewing people, writing articles, and taking pictures were only part of the jobs that the staff from the Eagle (newspaper) did to put out ten issues during the school year. The Eagle usually came out every other Thursday and was distributed to NWC students, alumni, colleges in the midwest, and prospective students.

The big improvement of this year's production over other years was the use of the Compugraphic typesetter, using a larger variety of sizes for letters. It was a learning experience for everyone, and they commented, "We may not be perfect, but we try."

Rushing to meet deadlines, organizing pictures, and making sure that pages were finished on time were some of the responsibilities of the yearbook staff. With the help of advisor Mr. Jerry Beilby, the Scroll staff worked many hours to get pages completed early so that the yearbook would be delivered and distributed before graduation in the spring, with a supplement to follow.

All of the staff members invested a lot of time placing pictures on pages, interviewing people, writing copy, and designing pages for the Northwestern Scroll so that students, faculty, and administrators could have a book that represented the school year.

THE TOWER ... Athletics

Eagles . . . Gonna Fly Now!

Under the leadership of head coach Mel Boehland and his coaching staff, the mighty Eagles rose to a season record of 5-4.

Six seniors and the efforts of team captains Dave Gustafson, Joe Wilkin, and Joe Sullivan encouraged the rest of the team to their main focus of unification — a unification both on and off the field. "Our goal was to be a positive spiritual influence on the rest of the school," said Coach Boehland.

Although the Northwestern Eagles did not win the conference title, they did defeat Mt. Senario, who eventually did take that title. Another important highlight of the season was their victory over Loras College, which was one of the best rated teams in the nation.

Soccer Team Strives for Goals

The soccer team had an exciting conclusion to their season by beating SPBC, a traditional rival, coming from behind in the second half to eventually win the game.

Coach Art Dickenson led his team to an overall record of 6-8-1. Rick Selin and Peter Reid were the captains of a very young team, with Rick being the only senior. They strived hard to grow closer as a team and to profess Christ on the field and in everything they did.

The Dynasty Still Continues . . .

Steve Farra has coached cross country at Northwestern for eight years, and for the eighth year, Northwestern has been the conference champion. The dynasty continues . . .

The team began the season with 14 runners, but ended with only seven "healthy bodies." Doug Huffman finished his fourth year on the team, and John Ellison was granted the title of most valuable runner.

Doug Huffman compared the team to a church and the edification of the body of believers. "You never suffer with someone the way you do when you run on a team. Our emphasis was to edify each member in reaching his goal."

The conference championship wasn't the only claim to fame for the team. They were also NCCAA Division II champions, a title that has never been won by a NWC cross country team.

A Fresh Start

The women's volleyball team finished their competitive season with seven conference wins and one loss, and shared the title of conference champions. Overall, the team had twelve wins and fifteen losses.

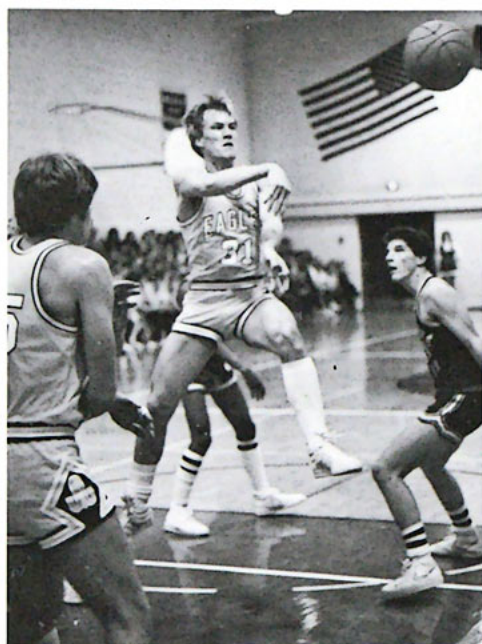

Jody Hempel and Adele Anderson served as team captains and led their team, which included three four-year players, to meet the goals they had set.

Barb Lindman coached the team this year, stating, "It is always a goal to put Christ first . . . to share our joys as well as our defeats."

A highlight of the team's year was beating Dr. Martin Luther College after having been beaten by them three times at home. This decisive win at New Ulm gave them the opportunity to share in the conference championship.

Men Look for Another Title

As coach of the men's basketball team, Mr. Ron Bocken has challenged his men to play their game and use their talents for the furtherance of the gospel of Jesus Christ.

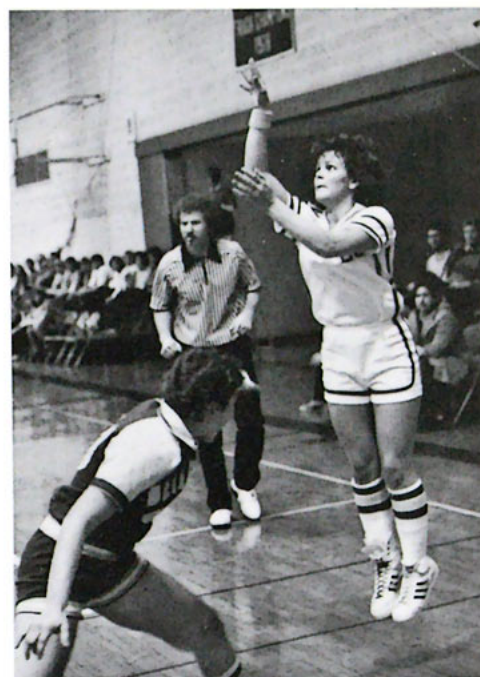

With this as their goal, the team has had a victorious start on the season, with twelve wins and seven losses as of January 24, 1983. Four seniors play on the court, led by Scott Anderson and Paul Hubbard as the team's captains.

A significant event for any Northwestern athletic team is beating Bethel, and the men's basketball team succeeded in this victory. Another exciting event was defeating the University of Minnesota at Morris.

Women's Basketball

At the time of publication, the women's basketball team was having an even season, winning close to the same amount of games that they have lost. Coach Dan Smith remarked that the team is young, and they are working to bring back more experience for next year's team.

Dena Sorensen has been the leading scorer for the season, assisted by Adele Anderson, Sherri Kremer and others.

Matmen on the Move

This year, the Northwestern wrestling team was equipped with young athletes, having no seniors on the squad. However, five letterwinners, including captains Rob Hansen and Rodd Umlauf, returned to lead their team to an early start of eight wins, six losses, and one tie at the time of this publication.

Coach Bruce Bulman has led the team in a study on spiritual principles applied to athletics, resulting in a good growth experience. Three areas of growth — mental, physical, and spiritual — are stressed to create stability and strength to reach their goals.

The team has not lacked excitement. This was proven when the Eagles beat St. Thomas, one of the top teams in wrestling in the MIAC for a number of years, by a score of 22-21.

Eagles On Ice

The Eagles took flight with the 1983 Hockey Club with a 5-1 record, having four or five games left to play as this book goes to print. This is the best team record ever, and it is accredited to total team commitment by the players.

The team has devotions before every practice and game. The goals they have set are obviously to win every game, but to be competitive in so doing.

The Hockey Club has its great players also. Steve Langelett leads the team in goals; Kevin Burns is second in goals and assists; and Mike Schulenberg is third. Duane Peterson has been doing a splendid job as the team's goaltender with a personal record of four wins and one loss.

The Resident Directors are often looked at as the authority figures in the residences, but if you would ask them how they viewed their position, they would probably say that they were more like a "mom" or a "dad" on campus. They stressed the fact that they are not there to just enforce rules and be disciplinarians, but to ensure comfortable living conditions for us all and to help college life run smoothly.

The R.D.'s work most directly with the deans and the R.A.'s. Some of their duties include presiding at R.A. meetings, giving out keys and room assignments, and being available as a friend to talk to.

Our loyal Resident Directors: Cherie Habegger of Moyer Residence, Dan Smith of Berntsen Residence, and Kathy Erickson of Hartill Residence.

Meeting the Challenge of Servanthood

Being a Resident Advisor at Northwestern involves many responsibilities. An R.A. is expected to enforce rules both outside and inside the residences, help new students get adjusted to college life, conduct room inspections and floor meetings, and act as a brother or sister away from home. They want to listen and help with students' problems. Overall, they are there to build unity between floors and between students.

To prepare for this ministry, the R.A.'s and Student Association leaders went on a weekend retreat before the school year began. They got a chance to get to know each other, besides having training and orientation seminars.

When asked how he liked being an R.A., Steve Clark replied, "It's a challenge!" Sharon McCullough added, "Yes, but it forces me to be a servant, and that's good!"

WVOE

The student radio station WVOE (Voice of the Eagle) was heard week-day evenings in the student residences at 540 on the AM dial. Broadcasting students were the DJ's, announcers, and managers of the station, giving them valuable experience as well as providing entertainment and ministry to the rest of the student body.

Closing Words . . .

Many joyous times as well as tears and prayers went into the assembly of this book, and I present it to you, the reader, in hopes that it will bring back good memories of warm friendships, new learning experiences, and times of close fellowship with Jesus Christ.

Many thanks go to my staff for all their hard work, and special thanks to Dave Myers for the endsheet design, and to Mr. Beilby for putting up with us as we were learning.

And now, in the tradition of the writers of the epistles . . . May the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all.

Sandy Kimball,
Editor
